

"Respect" Aretha Franklin

In the song "Respect," Aretha Franklin sings "Find out what it means to me." Building healthy relationships involves learning what positive values, such as respect, mean to your friends, family members, intimate partners, etc. To Franklin (and to SAVE), respect is reciprocal.

In the song, and daily life, we:

*Commit to respecting others.
And expect the same in return.*

(Hint: this is true for all healthy relationship skills; reciprocity is crucial!)
